1. Program output VS test data generator input

When generating test case input, I also let the type of test case write to a file. In the end compare my classifier program's output to test data generator's input.

2. Nullspace transformations

I gave it extra whitespace and the output remains the same.

3. Multiple versions

I have tried different versions of -o when I compiled.